Show and Tell Your Memories – Aurora of Memories

Whether your family has lived in the area for generations or you're a recent arrival, we want to know what makes our community special for you. Bring a photograph or memento or simply stop by to hear others share their stories.

When we're finished, artist Ayako Miller will incorporate selected memories into a textile sculpture that will be a part of the new Richland Library Ballentine.

Suggested items to share include:

- A historic or family photograph
- A photograph of your family using the library
- A favorite book
- Small objects that evoke memories
- A favorite quote or saying

Create for Your Library – The Hyperbolic Crochet Wisteria Project

Your Library Needs You! Please join artist Barbara Streeter in this series of workshops as she teaches each community member how to crochet their own gorgeous piece of yarn wisteria. Soon, all of these community created pieces will be added, together, to the larger vine as public art in the new Richland Library Ballentine. No crochet experience required and all ages welcome. Come and create!
